DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Applicant's election without traverse of claims 1-8, 11-13, and 19 in the reply filed on April 7, 2006 is acknowledged. Claims 9, 10, 14-18, and 20-23 have been cancelled. Claims 1, 11-13, and 19 have been amended.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-8, 11-13, and 19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Brewer (U.S. Patent No. D272,754). Brewer discloses in Figures 1-6 a golf grip aid comprising all of the elements as recited in these claims. In particular, the first strip and the second strip are attached to each other and the second strip is shorter than the first strip.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-8, 11-13, and 19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Young (U.S. Patent No. 6,865,748). Young discloses a thumb guard (10) comprising a flexible, resilient, padded material body (14) having end portions (16, 18) with end (18) wider than end (16). Figure 3 illustrating end portion (16) folded over on top of end portion (18). The Young guard (10) does not disclose the end portions (16, 18) are bonded by a double sided tape or by a coat of adhesive. However, applicant's specification, as originally filed, discloses the first strip and the second strip are bonded by sewing stitches. Therefore it would have been obvious to one skilled in the art recognized the sewing stitches as equivalent to either the double sided strip and to the adhesive.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
